May 26, 2016 - Madeira - Toboggans and Wine!

Today finds you in Funchal, the capitol of the island of Madeira where Christopher Columbus once lived. The Marina is docked here from 8am to 6pm. For an exhilarating, once in a lifetime experience, take the rather pedestrian cable car from Funchal to Monte. The experience is getting back! The towns are connected by a steep, winding road and in 1890, locals came up with a simple and fun way to get themselves down the hill - by toboggan! The "old-fashioned" toboggans are wicker two-seaters that glide on wooden runners. Two men in rubber-soled boots accompany you for the ride, acting as human brakes and ensuring you don't run off course. Ernest Hemingway described it as "exhilarating" and you will too! The island is also home to Madeira wine and its unique winemaking process.

Don't miss Cathedral Se, a magnificent cathedral dating from the 1400s. The stark exterior gives way to a rich and majestic interior. (B/L/D)

Today is your final day to luxuriate in all that the Marina offers. If you've not yet enjoyed the time honored tradition of High Tea, don't miss out! Of course, an equally tempting selection of tea is served as well! Tonight, enjoy dinner as only the Marina does it!
